Kartin Lihawa*, Adimawati Helingo, Sri Agriyanti Mestari* and Elsje L. Sambouw*

Abstract: The objective of this research is producing customs terms dictionary by analyzing Gorontalo language data in linguistic computation program of True Basic. The data are taken from the poems related to Gorontalo customs or traditional ceremony, besides its documents. The methods used is descriptive qualitative. All custom terms from the data are analyzed in two ways of using linguistics competence and manually. Finally, it is found customs terms dictionary in two languages (Gorontalo-Indonesian and Gorontalo-English).

Keywords: Language, local, gorontal, culture, custom dictionary, linguistic, computation.

BACKGROUND

A very alarming fact, many people began to leave the regional language, including Gorontalo society that many children and adolescents are not familiar with the local language, especially indigenous language of traditional poetry. There has been a tendency to use Indonesian in the family circle. On the other hand, children and adolescents have been and are taking action utilization of written language by changing its own character and structure as desired individuals or groups against Indonesian and foreign language even mixed with local languages with the same way or system through SMS communication and facebook. We can imagine; (i) how the use of third-language problems associated with the utilization of technological advances become familiar and intimate partner alongside the teenage community life. It is quite an impact on the problem of three languages. (ii) the possibility of the extinction of the local language at a certain time in the future. (iii) On the one hand, the presence of regional languages and foreign languages as a means of supporting culture and the development of Indonesian, but instead all three need to be handling the problem.

To minimize the language issue as it was intended, to occur positive maintain efforts of regional languages and protected from extinction, then the effort of documenting the language and cultural values Gorontalo area can be done through a dictionary term research and manufacture of custom area in two languages, the language Gorontalo-Indonesia and Gorontalo-English.

To obtain the ease of making the dictionary, the preparation should be assisted by computational linguistics program. But due to the preparation and publication of the dictionary requires a data set of poetry in all aspects of the local communities in the region of Gorontalo, the early stage research has produced a research report meaning the value of poetry customary in general according to the sequence of events in each aspect of customs and their rituals and product results collection of poems Gorontalo local customs. The product becomes a means of making the customary terminology dictionary. Today, the dictionary is still in the editing phase and not yet published, because other issues are still associated with the necessary uniformity Gorontalo Regional language standardization. This issue concerns the morphological spelling and phonological still very varied which must be followed up with research on an ongoing basis.

LITERATURE REVIEW

Language preservation in principle is that the positive efforts of the public speakers of all languages, as Wittgenstein (2005, p 7) states The effects of language maintenance programs can be extremely positive for threatened cultural groups. Dealing with the problems of language maintenance, many languages in the world became extinct, this is caused by several things as said Ken Hale (in Wittgenstein (2005, p 3) that the number of languages in the world has been dropping for at least half a millennium. Apparently this is at a rate of this in inverse proportion to the tide of intercultural exchange from mass migrations, trade, industrial growth, education, and communication revolutions.

The effort of maintaining the language of both minority and majority language which already has a characteristic in danger of extinction, (e.g., Indonesia is rich in local language), many ways to do that the community can play a more active use of local groups of their language as a form of consciousness love their language and culture. Fishman (1991, in Potowski 2013. p 13) proposed that minority languages, to the extent that they belong to minority groups, would benefit greatly from group-based legal protection, similar to the Americans with Disabilities Act, as well as a more proactive stance by community members toward preserving their preservation.

The information quoted from the Internet on January 6, 2013 on the thinking of a healthy about the culture and the language it is said that a healthy irregularities or problems in our country have been documented. The provision of appropriate services is cultured and linguistics (culturally and linguistically Appropriate services, CLAS) is a strategy to help remove irregularities or problems. To follow the way the services concerned need to take the culture and language of the individual as this may help lead to positive results for the overall population variation within a region. Such services can be categorized as healthy services, valued, and valuable. With this service, users of language communities can be responsive to the healthy confidence.
It says that the appropriate services are cultured and language, (CLAS) provide a framework for all service organizations healthy to the best service to the community was mixed, rising in a region Standard CLAS as a collection of one unified mandate, guidelines, and recommendations are intended for information, fostering and facilitating the requirements and rules in the form of service-related warnings healthy culture and language. CLAS Standards to prepare guidance improvement of service quality on three things: a competent service culture, language access services, and support-support organizations. It was published in 2001.

Associated with the formation and development of Indonesian language and literature as well as language and literature region, it has had a constitutional basis. It has already amended in 1945 in Article 32, paragraph 2, that “the State respects and preserves local languages as national cultural treasures” (Depdibud 2003).

The Languages in Indonesia

In Indonesia there are many regional languages (Muzhab in Mahsun, 2000) “The presence of regional languages in Indonesia is not less than 670”. Mahsun (2000, 44-45) illustrates that the regional languages is helping to provide empirical evidence to inspire intense contemplation as well as being the same starting point to foster a shared commitment. For example the data kinship terms of equivalence rules, sounds, and grammar is a testament to broaden understanding of the state of diversity in unity.

In this case Mahsun discuss the Constitution No. 22 of 1999 on the granting of authority to the widest for those areas that developed by utilizing the potential which exists in its own area optimally. On the one hand, it is becoming a threat to the survival of the nation Indonesia because there will be competition in the area including encouragement for certain areas for want of free software, but the diversity in the condition that their similarities and differences, on the other hand suggested the emergence of competition needs to be managed either by the government.

In this discussion, Mahsun focuses on efforts to improve the quality of the use of regional languages through the teaching and development of local content material dimension of diversity. It is daid that from the side view, local languages were derived from the same family and clumps are not the same will result in two things namely that local languages were from the same family have good prospects for the teaching of regional languages, otherwise if languages it is not from the same family, the development of local content material dimension all-ikaan binekatunggal be less promising. For that Mahsun suggest need to do research, for example related to dialectology and comparative historical.

The previous description, Mahsun leads to increased use of quality local languages to support Indonesian. If we follow carefully this desire, it contained meaning there needs of activities to maintain the regional languages but it is only implied in the descriptions on the implementation efforts of the local language in teaching activities as local content.

In an evidence, meyatakan that language teaching in general has not been able to improve the skills of learners in language both orally and in writing; examples of English proficiency of our children or students.

To perfect, that the preservation of regional languages is not only seen from one side, but more than that. In terms of the role and functions of the local language, the local language preservation efforts more clearly stated. The role of regional languages in accordance Indonesian congressional formula VIII in Jakarta, 14-17 October 2003 stated that the role of regional languages (including script) as a means of fostering and development of culture, education, art, and traditions of the region to strengthen the identity and cultural resistance nation. In addition to strengthening the role of the local language is used as an introduction at the beginning of education, can also be done through the cultural realm, the realm of customary and religious realm. So the local language can survive when communicated with the family environment, culture, art and traditions of the area, also to transfer to regional languages into Indonesian, even necessary in a foreign language.

Following the formulation of BI VIII congress, we looked the efforts of the establishment and preservation of regional languages in various forms of activities. In the realm of culture, customs and religion, it is possible to do the preservation of regional languages through the efforts of producing and publishing a dictionary term local customs and moreover the dictionary was expressed in two languages, regional languages - Indonesian and local languages - English. It anticipates the more depressed the use of local languages may be extinct if the speakers have started to abandon the use of regional languages in the family and community level communication. In addition, the local language with culture began to be affected by the assimilation of foreign cultures in the world of globalization and sophisticated communications.

Studied the function of regional languages, (Alwi and Sugono, 2000: vi) there are three (3) functions of regional languages in the national language politics. (1) as the pride of the region, (2) the symbol of regional identity, (3) as a means of transport in the family environment, and local communities. There are two other functions mentioned in congress national languages namely (1) as a means of supporting local and Indonesian culture, (2) as a supporter of regional literature and literary Indonesia.

English as Foreign Language: Roles and Functions

The presence of regional languages according to its function formulated in congress, other than as a means of transport, the regional languages have common goals with the functions of a foreign language in Indonesia. The function of a foreign language in Indonesia is PBN (National Language Centre) and KBN (National Language Congress) has the same formulation, namely as a means of transportation between states and foreign language as a means of strengthening the modern science and technology, for moral development. One function again in PBN is a foreign language as a tool to help Indonesian development into a modern language. This function in KBN’s Congress (National Language) into two more items that is associated with both English and Arabic. English preferred as a source of Indonesian development, especially for the development of scientific terminology and the Arabic-language placed as religious language and Islamic culture (Alwi and Sugono, 2000: xi).

Building and Construction Custom Term Dictionary with Computational Linguistics

When preparing the dictionary is addressed to the owner of the language itself, then compiled are mono-lingual dictionary, if the dictionary was intended for someone who does not own the language, then compiled a dictionary of the language is itself. Mono language dictionary definition is not enough synonyms, but a bilingual synonym is sufficient (Chaer, 2000: 212). The benefits of mono language dictionary is emphasized by Chaer is to broaden the knowledge of the owner of that language. When viewed in terms of objectives, preparation of a bilingual dictionary is beneficial to use another language, it interpretes the meaning of synonyms only. To interpret the term derived from traditional poetry, so it is closely related to culture, such as Koentjaraningrat (1993: 11) argues that it is the ideal form of the indigenous culture of a society, which shall govern the community’s attitude.

The Kinds of Dictionary

As we see the results published by the dictionary describes a number of types of dictionaries, dictionaries in one language only, dictionary in bilingual or dual language and dictionary in three languages or multiple languages. The entire dictionary is the type of target language dictionary (Chaer 2000 p. 196), whereas other dictionaries say 1) Dictionary by size; big dictionary, the dictionary is limited (limited to entry and meaning), a pocket dictionary, a dictionary of students (entry is determined by the level of education). 2) Dictionary based content; dictionary pronunciation (special pronunciation and no one has been found in Indonesian), dictionary spelling (spelling and decoding of words on syllables), synonym dictionaries, dictionaries antonyms, (the dictionary opposite words and for the Indonesian language yet exist), dictionary homonym (explanation of the word and concept for several different meanings), dictionary idiom (word or combination of words whose meaning is not predictable from the elements formation), a dictionary of acronyms/abbreviations, dictionary etymology, dictionary terms, and dictionary idiak (dictionaries that many of the conditions and complex formulation).
Definition of Term Dictionary

We have seen much dictionaries term widely used by each person in his field of expertise, such as linguistic terminology dictionaries, dictionary terms of biology, chemistry terms dictionary, a dictionary of medical terms and dictionary of economic terms. Dictionary of terms according to Chaer (2000: 205) is a description of the entry, there is just a synonym of the entry, there is also the form of a brief description or explanation is quite long.

To produce a dictionary of terms, one is confronted with problems of lexicography and the problems will be taken into consideration in drafting. The problem in general is that the wording is based on morphological system with affixation system which has many words derived. Gorontalo language teteo word “run” may be drafted by an alphabetic derivative of the word.

\text{teteo, Hitetea} - \text{is being run} \\
\text{Matumeteo} - \text{will run} \\
\text{Teteolo} - \text{run (please)}

The issue compose the word is the suffix, repeated words, inserts and meanings. All of this requires a way of placement and the right space in a sequence in the dictionary.

Linguistic Computation Process in Drafting the Custom Terms Dictionary

One computer program that can process language data into a sequence of words and can be used to compile or create a dictionary is True Basic Program. The program according to Kemeny and Kurtz (1985: v) is “True BASIC which attempts to combine the power of a large language with the convenience and ease of use of a personal computer” more say “There are more features of the language that we can discuss here. For example, True BASIC Allows you to use the full memory in your computer. And help, when you get stuk, is readily available directly on your screen “.

In the program there are instructions to calculate how many words are put into True Basic screen, then ordered to arrange the words in alphabetical form and so ready to be printed. A researcher can combine the data manually each language with words in alphabetical order production. Merging is done by reordering alphabetically all the data printed.

MATERIAL AND METHOD

The method in this research is descriptive qualitative. Data from the field have been obtained by gathering documents of writing poetry and video of custom implementation, besides the direct observation in the field. The techniques used are interview, recording, and recording. The results of data analysis of two direct observations and recording of activities in the field of poetry, and 7 documents (4 document video, and three documents written data) are described as below.

The sample of terms customary obtained from the custom implementation process in Gorontalo includes birth custom, marriage with the order of its implementation, funeral customs, welcoming guests, and traditional coronation. All customary terms selected is a sample of this research.

The sample of region used is one city and five counties in Gorontalo. Data of poems were found, then have the same contents for two or three regions, the researcher simply chose any one of the aforementioned data. It is based on the mind of Surakhmad (1980, p. 7). Researchers should conduct observations of everyday experience, and see the reality that is happening around us.

Processing of the data from the field is done with a few steps: (1) transcription / transliteration language data, (2) translation, (3) data classification of indigenous language, (4) Preparation of indigenous poetry systematically into four aspects of Gorontalo customary so that it becomes a collection of Gorontalo local indigenous poetry that has been translated.

The process of analyzing research data has its steps, those are: (1) Classifying the language data from six regions (1 cities and 5 counties) in accordance with the customary aspect in Gorontalo area; (2) Transliterating spoken language into writing form of Gorontalo language; (3) Translating into Indonesian; (4) Preparing all indigenous poetry that has been transliterated and translated then to be a product and (5) Describing the general meaning and values that exist in traditional poetry.

For data processing techniques, namely indigenous language dictionary made through the process of computational linguistics program. With this program, the data typed on the windows program, included in the True Basic program through the screen notepad. In this position True Basic program can bring up all the words in alphabetical order. Because of the True Basic screen can only accommodate a limited line, the discourse of poetry or any other language data are divided into several sub discourse. Then the work of True Basic arranged separately manually by reordering all the pieces to form the alphabet as a whole.

The form of the word order is translated into English by google translation on the internet and then corrected manually.

The process of analyzing research data includes the steps as follows: (1) Copying the language data into windows; (2) Dividing data into True Basic screen in the form of a short piece of discourse; (3) Processing the data in the display True Basic with its commands to arrange all the words to be alphabetical order of data; (4) combining each alphabetic sequence of pieces short of discourse manually to each alphabetical order, then it becomes a customary term overall arrangement; (5) Checking carefully alphabetical order; (6) Interpreting the possibility of the appearance of the word in different contexts. Transfering meaning from Indonesian to English conducted by the help of the assistance of the computer program and the manually and (7) Making research report. (8) Composing Gorontalo custom term dictionary.

Molalunga Activity ‘funeral Activity’: In the document of Gorontalo customary rites (M. Botutihe and F. daulima 2003: 349 as informants status), meaning the funeral consists of two: (1) in connection with the customs are: (i) the corpse buried is as a government official, (ii) the corpse is respectable and contributed a lot to the people and the country (including retirees), (iii) other meanings of the funeral is a request to the Almighty so that the spirit in question is accepted with Him, because the regular practice is good. (2) The meaning funeral in terms of some of the parties; (i) For the bereaved family is an activity Duliyalo ‘entertaining’, (ii) to those who died are utilomungo ‘submissions in the form of prayer’, (iii) For a country Toheto u lipu ‘resilience’ state (endurance training needs of the State), (iv) Lamahiyo lo agama ‘glory to religion’. In principle Molalunga or Baya lobulilo ‘customary funeral rites’ is a symbol of humanity that contains the meaning of human life in this world and hereafter. The poems in this ceremony generally contain meaning and religious values, values of respect and appreciation for the services of the corpses, cultural values, and constitutional. This can be seen in the verses of the poem ‘tujagi’.
In the procedure of bathing the corpse, there are seven Perian or yellow bamboo, and it begins with a splash first perian done by wu’u or baate ‘customery official leader’, and accompanied by presenting poems by the implementing custom as follows.

Each end of poem is connected with the word rhyme eeyanggu ‘my overlord’ or mbu’i or tuani ‘Sir’ or Apita ‘custom leader’ in accordance with the position of the corpse of a woman or a man. And specifically for person gain of honorary, the poem is connected to tapulu ‘traditional authorities’.

Seven traditional yellow bamboos contain water have its meaning of our prayers to God so that the bodies or corpses would be bathed gaining forgiveness.

In general description of the meaning and value of each customs area Gorontalo noted previously had the kinds of values that religious values, cultural values and customs historically Gorontalo, aesthetics / beauty, ethics, and values the sanctity of the advisory activities; namely poetry is to educate girls cherish and maintain the beauty in life.

In the event moponika ‘activities marriage’, the values are as follows: (i) the value of social, aesthetic and the value of social/solidarity in making a proposal of applying girls, (ii) the historical value of the activity in conducting property and at the wedding day, (iii) historical value and the value of the award to the bride and groom at the wedding day, (iv) the value of manners and social to the activities of palebohu ‘marriage advice’, (v) religious values, recognition, and appreciation.

the country, the value of the glory of religion. Similarly, the general description of a number of values contained in the appropriate ceremonial aspects of the prevailing custom in the province of Gorontalo.

The Description Differences of Poems Contents Presented Orally on Indigenous and that’s in the Document

Based on observations in the field, the cultural activities carried out in the community has a lot of variety, although there is a strong indigenous documents and still used as guidelines by all stakeholders and local customs. An indigenous stakeholders should follow and submit poetry because poetry is a guideline and it has become a customary provision to be implemented. But because of different conditions customary implements selected regions, it appears that significant variations specialized in the delivery of traditional poetry. The best-performing variations show differences is very important to be known and understood by all of us. It is caused by two factors, as described below.

The Influence of Regional Conditions or the Atmosphere of a Custom Implementation

To deliver custom poetry, the indigenous stakeholders do not always follow the pattern of the poems in the document. Poetry in the document is a standard poetry, no change in cultural activities, but the change was an impromptu poetry. So, this impromptu poem should be documented and preserved.

Conditions when Making a Proposal of Applying Girl

Poetry that many times shows up is an impromptu poem at the time of making a proposal of applying girls. Example is in the following circumstances (Dr. Dakia Djou observations, Hum in 2011 in his dissertation research)

\begin{align*}
\text{Wonu bileheha moli janela} & \quad \text{When viewed from the window side} \\
\text{Taa bo’o-bo’o lo u meela} & \quad \text{He is wearing a red shirt} \\
\text{Wonu bileheha mato-mato lodulahu} & \quad \text{When viewed from the rising sun} \\
\text{Taa bo’o-bo’o lo u molalahu} & \quad \text{He wears yellow dressed}
\end{align*}

This poem will not be repeated in the atmosphere and a place in the same activity.

Condition of Advisery Girl Activity

The observation of advisery girl activity which implement all rules of the custom in Suwawa Bone Bolango via video, indigenous actors systematically implement customs, but there was the delivery of a poem that is not found in the document. Sample poem is when set foot on indigenous plate/dishes:

Mopohutaqo to pingge ‘Set foot on the plate’
Botiya pingge hipapade This is a line plate
Hipapade hidutua lined located
U mopiyo hiqambuwa Good is also gathered
Pohuli hidupapawa hitaluwa Indigenous arranged in front
Wanu to bohulio When at the beginning
Dahai pingge mopoqo Take care not to rupture plate
Dapatiyo mototoqo The sequence was solid
Mohungguli motihuloqo Revealing sit together
Dapatiyo motoloqo The sequence is depth
Dahai pingge mohuli Carefully plate cracked
Utiye u mowali wungguli This will be a story
Dahai motowuli do not retreat
Poqo piyohe ayuwa Arrange temperament
Dapatiyo piohio The rule is the kindness
Lumuneto tinelio Looks light rays
Mobubuheto pinggelio Really heavy plate
Dahai pingge motiya Keep cracked plate
Wonu mopia If it’s good
Ito mopiya We’re so good
Dahai mayi olo amiyatia And also keep us all

Conditions during the Funeral

All cultural activities area refer to the documents, it means that all customary sequence should not deviate from the provisions. However, special delivery at a funeral poem is determined by existing conditions. Examples delivery of video poetry funeral of former headman of Limboto Biyonga village in Gorontalo Regency namely Mr. Zakaria Pilomonu, the order of ‘notification poetry’ and ‘bathing poetry’ inserted by two poems of ‘poetry of longing’ and ‘poetry of recalling the events of man’. Both poems were not found in the document. Here is the poem as is: (Source: molalunga video recorded by Dr. Asna Ntelu, Hum, in 2011 when drafting the dissertation is concerned)

Notifications: meaning; customary strength

Maa loduudula mai The delegation has arrived
Maa lodulohupamai we have consulted
Given human events

Dile banta wombu posabari
Wife, children, and grandchildren to be patient

To dunia dila kakali
The world is impermanent

(Bathing with first yellow bamboo by wu’u / baate ’customer head officer’)

Sanctity

Utiya taluhi yamata
This is the water of honor

Tilimemayi to data
Drawn/taken out of the country

Botiya ma pomata
now will be splashed

Bilohi tawu data

Effect of the Nature/Human Characters and the Message Body of Poetry in a Custom Implementation

In the implementation of customs, there are differences in the delivery of a poem by indigenous stakeholders. The influence of the difference as the results of interviews with indigenous stakeholders in North Gorontalo District that poetry appears adapted to human nature. For example, when poetry marriage advice delivered to groom who are irritability, indigenous stakeholders created the poem as follows:

Ulu’u mopo letu-letu
Hands can be shifted

Dila pomanggawa Bulingo dudetu
Do not give priority an ax of the needle

Baya mop mili-milingo
Face/head can be shifting
The Influence Poem on a Custom Implementation

Based on the change in the poetry of the document or an impromptu poetry creation capability by indigenous leader, then there is a mutual response between traditional authorities and the people who were given a poem. This happened at the coronation ceremonies such activities ‘coronation’ of the Head East Bone Bulango District Mr. Abdul Hamid Hatlah, S. Pd, MM. (Source: The coronation video in Bone Bolango).

Because that was named a district head, the number of indigenous stakeholders are required to deliver the poem containing advice. One of the traditional authorities deliver advice poem later to be crowned that Bulango Head East, concerned reply to poetry. Two poems were used between traditional authorities and district heads created its own and is not customary in the customs documents. The poem can be seen as follows.

\begin{align*}
