Reviewer Comment For Author:

Please add more the reasoning on Introduction, especially related with why should interaction of salinity and natural feed, why growth and survival rate, also why their combination, and what ex-situ conservation development research before? You could arrange the reasoning in order to four/five paragraphs (for example): first paragraph-reason why you choose on Banggai cardinafish, second paragraph-reason why you choose on growth and survival rate, third paragraph-reason on salinity and natural feed. The last paragraph you could explain why so important interaction between both salinity and natural feed and growth and survival? Please also add at last paragraph about similar researches previously.

Please use also language editor for editing your article language. It is better you are using one professional language editor or native English speaker.

Dear Editor

We apologize that we just received information on the template format via the link https://ejabf.journals.ekb.eg/author?\_action=revise&manu\_code=81540 so that the article we sent on July 28, 2021 did not follow the template. However, we have corrected it according to the template and sent it attached (EJABF_2106-2304-1-2-Hasim-RevisedFinal). Thus our apologies, thank you for the cooperation and support provided.

Best regards
Hasim
