Language Mixing in Traditional Medicine Manuscripts:Public Access to Health Knowledge and Practices
Cogent Arts & Humanities

Dear Hinta,

Thank you for submitting your manuscript for publication in Cogent Arts & Humanities.

The topic of your paper, in principle, fits the parameters for submission to Cogent Arts & Humanities. However, please revise the title and abstract, since nowhere do these identify the location of the topic under consideration (Indonesia). Please also define and clarify specialist terms that might not be familiar and make sure that these are understandable by non-specialists. Please also clearly identify the reason(s) why your submission is interesting and/or useful to the field. Finally, please use a larger font (Times 12 points) and 1.5 or 2 line spacing, for the comfort of the reviewers.

After this revision, please submit as a new submission using the online system.

Yours sincerely,
Jeroen van de Weijer

Language Mixing in Traditional Medicine Manuscripts: Public Access to Health Knowledge and Practices in Indonesia

Cogent Arts & Humanities

Dear Hinta,

Your manuscript entitled "Language Mixing in Traditional Medicine Manuscripts: Public Access to Health Knowledge and Practices in Indonesia", which you submitted to Cogent Arts & Humanities, has now been reviewed.

There are FOUR reviews, included at the bottom of the letter, which make a moderate number of suggestions for revision. We hope that you will consider these suggestions, and revise your manuscript.

If you decide to send in a revised version to Cogent Arts & Humanities, please include a list of changes that you have made in response to the reviewers' comments. If you disagree with a reviewer's comment, please provide a response that makes clear why you are not incorporating their comment. Mark the changes clearly in the revised text by using a different font colour or highlight.

Please submit your revision by Dec 05, 2024, if you need additional time then please contact the Editorial Office.

To submit your revised manuscript please go to <https://rp.cogentoa.com/dashboard/> and log in. You will see an option to Revise alongside your submission record.

If you are unsure how to submit your revision, please contact us on OAAH-peerreview@journals.tandf.co.uk

You also have the option of including the following with your revised submission:

* public interest statement - a description of your paper of NO MORE THAN 150 words suitable for a non-specialist reader, highlighting/explaining anything which will be of interest to the general public * about the author - a short summary of NO MORE THAN 150 WORDS, detailing either your own or your group's key research activities, including a note on how the research reported in this paper relates to wider projects or issues.

* photo of the author(s), including details of who is in the photograph - please note that we can only publish one photo

If you require advice on language editing for your manuscript or assistance with arranging translation, please do consider using the Taylor & Francis Editing Services (www.tandfeditingservices.com).

Please ensure that you clearly highlight changes made to your manuscript, as well as submitting a thorough response to reviewers.

We look forward to receiving your revised article.

Best wishes,

Comments to the author
Reviewer 1: In general, your research is very interesting in how it applies traditional medical sentences to medical medicine.
However, the process of strengthening the problem still needs to be strengthened with various sources and urgency in the research.
We are not concerned about literature review, in the main method, you are directed to add processes, such as how many sources will be interviewed, a more detailed observation process and the length of time taken in collecting data, this is very important in qualitative research.
The results and discussion also need to be tidied up with various additions according to the attached review.
as well as more up-to-date references, to strengthen the research results in this article.

Comments to the author

Reviewer 2: The article has been written satisfactorily. However, the author(s) should undertake further proofreading to ensure that the article is written in the correct English order and free from grammatical and punctuation errors.

The article also has merit and novelty, although it is not particularly strong due to the author(s) still relatively general writing style.

The method is too long and convoluted, perhaps it can be summarised but the explanation must be obvious.

More importantly, the author must re-explain the arguments further to strengthen the analysis and explanation, especially those that can explain the relationship between language mixing in traditional medicine manuscripts. Therefore, the author must explain ancient medicine manuscripts were used in this research. The authors should also display pictures/illustrations of some of these ancient medicine manuscripts.

Comments to the author

Reviewer 3: The title suggests that traditional medicine manuscripts are publicly accessible for health knowledge and practices in Indonesia. My question: Are those manuscripts written by indigenous health practitioners or reading based on special memories in the form of memorization to cure illness? This is because the data show differently from the title. I suggest revising the title to reflect the research that you currently have.

There are no references to your methodology as well as the number of your informants and their roles. You mentioned that observation was one of the methods used, but there was no explanation regarding what observations were made. I found that your Table 3 for sub-headings uses different language

The majority of references are over 5 years old. Your research would benefit from sources that are more up-to-date.

Dear Ellyana Hinta,

Your Open Access article, Language mixing in traditional medicine manuscripts: public access to health knowledge and practices in Indonesia, published in Cogent Arts & Humanities, Volume 12 Issue 1, is now available to access via tandfonline.com.

Share your article now

You'll hopefully want to share your article with friends or colleagues (and then check its downloads, citations and Altmetric data on Authored Works, our dedicated center for all Cogent OA published authors). Publishing Open Access means your article can be read by anyone, anywhere, and we want to work with you to ensure it reaches as wide (and as appropriate) an audience as possible.

Author feedback tells us that something as simple as posting about your article's publication on social media is a highly effective way of highlighting your research. Find out more about how you can work with us to promote your work.

Not sure how to access your Authored Works?

If you haven't yet registered, you can do so using ellyana.hinta@ung.ac.id (this is the email you used whilst your manuscript was going through production).

Once you've completed the quick registration you'll be sent an email asking you to confirm. Click on the verification link and you can then login (using the above email address) whenever you want to by going to Taylor & Francis Online. Once you have logged in, click on "Your Account" at the top of the page to see the latest updates on your article.

If you have any problems accessing your Taylor & Francis Online account please contact us. Thank you for publishing Open Access with us.

Kind regards,
